

AI INCOME CHALLENGE

WORKBOOK #1

AN IMPORTANT LETTER FROM IMAN

“You’ve never been this early.”

That’s the tagline of this event. And having gone through Episode 1, you now know exactly why we chose it.

Over the course of this week, I have one goal. To show you a real opportunity that regular, everyday people are already using to build income on the side of whatever they’re already doing to pay the bills.

Not a business that needs to consume your whole life. Not a second job in a different outfit. A real income stream that doesn’t care how many hours you have left to give it.

Already working for people with no prior experience, no credentials, and no special advantages. People exactly where you are right now.

The Turning Point

After watching more people succeed at this than I can count, I noticed something. The thing that actually changed their lives was never the number in the bank account. Not $1 million. Not $100k. Not even $10k.

It was the day their side income overtook their main income. I call that the Turning Point.

From that day on, work stops being something you have to do. It becomes something you choose to do.

You've Never Been This Early

84% of the world has never used AI. Not once. If you've used AI at all, you're already in the top 16%. If you pay for a subscription, you're in the top 0.3%. The people making money with it? 0.04%. That's one dot in 2,500.

This is what early actually looks like. And there is probably no opportunity you have ever known about this early.

The Pattern

After running events like this and watching thousands of people go through this system, one thing kept coming up.

The people who made it had a Why.

Something they were doing this for that meant they couldn't afford to stop:

- A parent who'd spent their whole life working and deserved to finally stop
- A child they wanted to give a different kind of start
- A partner they'd watched worry about money for too long

Not skill. Not experience. Not how much they knew going in.

A reason so specific and so personal that giving up wasn't an option.

What's In This For Me

I'll be straight about why I'm showing you this, because you should know exactly what's in it for me.

I'm a co-owner of Whop, the fastest-growing online payments platform in the world. It's how everyone you'll hear about this week actually gets paid. Whop takes a small percentage of every transaction on the platform.

Which means every time you make money through this system, I make money too.

I also just became an investor and advisor at Higgsfield, the fastest-growing company ever, a generative AI company that's setting the trends for this entire industry. So I don't just know what's working now. I get to see what's going to work next.

Your success and mine are connected in a very literal sense. I have no reason to waste your time and every reason to make sure this actually works for you.

Your Why

The rest of this workbook is going to help you get clear on your Why. Take that seriously.

Not because it's a nice exercise, but because across everything we've seen, it genuinely is the thing that determines what happens for you this week.

The system I'm going to give you is only as powerful as the reason behind it.

Go through this properly. Sit with it. Know exactly who you're doing this for.

Not someday. Now.

SECTION 1: KEY TAKEAWAYS

Fill in the blanks using what you remember from the session. Rewatch if needed. This locks in the core learning.

1. The day your side income surpasses your main income is called the Turning Point.

2. You are either the person who uses AI, or the person AI is used to replace.

3. The deal asks you to come with an open mind and take imperfect action.

4. What you should NOT do while building your side hustle: Quit your job.

5. The four previous events combined generated $97 million in tracked earnings.

6. If I stop, does the money stop?

7. AI Digital Products are called “Digital Real Estate.”

8. The first asset in history with no price of admission is an AI Digital Product.

9. The three steps of the system: Develop, Distribute, and Deliver.

10. The difference between those who succeed and those who don’t is having a powerful Why.

SECTION 2: WHY NOW & THE TURNING POINT

This opportunity didn't exist a few years ago. It exists now for the exact same reason the headlines keep trying to scare you.

Goldman Sachs published research showing over 300 million jobs will be replaced by AI by 2030. That's not a prediction about the future. It's a description of what's already happening. 37% of employers today already prefer to use AI over hiring a recent graduate for the same task. The CEO of Shopify has made it company policy that no new hire gets approved unless it's first proven that AI can't do the job.

Every major technological shift in history has created two groups of people. The ones who adapted early and built wealth from the transition. And the ones who resisted until the transition happened to them.

Right now, you get to decide which side of that line you're on.

You are either the person who uses AI, or the person AI is used to replace.

For the first time, doing nothing has become the risky choice. Staying exactly where you are, with a single income controlled by someone else, is the risk. Building something on the side is how you change that.

By the end of this event, you'll have the exact plan to be the first kind.

The Turning Point

The Turning Point isn't a number. It's a moment.

The day your side income surpasses your main income. Not the day you're rich. The day work becomes a choice instead of a necessity.

No one deciding your schedule for you anymore. No one putting a price tag on your time. No alarm you have to obey. The ability to walk away from a job not because you were forced to, but because you built something real enough that you don't need it anymore.

That's the moment everything shifts. And that's what this week is about getting you to.

Why Now

How many jobs does Goldman Sachs research show will be replaced by AI by 2030?

Over 300 million

The Employers

What percentage of employers already prefer AI over hiring a recent graduate?

The Policy

Which company made it policy that no new hire gets approved unless AI can't do the job first?

Shopify

The Two Kinds

Those who use AI, and those AI is used to replace

The New Risk

What has quietly become the risky choice?

Doing nothing

The Turning Point

What is the Turning Point?

The day your side income surpasses your main one

What Changes

From that day on, work becomes a:

choice

SECTION 3: THE DEAL & THE WEEK AHEAD

This event is designed to show you an opportunity that is allowing regular, everyday people to build income online, on the side of whatever they're already doing to pay the bills.

Who's already taking advantage of this:

- 19-year-olds making more money than doctors
- Single dads and mums with multiple kids
- College graduates and dropouts
- People from small cities and countries with few local opportunities
- People with no prior experience, no credentials, no special advantages

All using the same system. All starting from zero.

A lot of the people who signed up to this event told me the same thing.

"I know I'm meant for more."

They just haven't found the way there yet. Maybe they don't know how. Maybe they want to start but can't find the time, because all their hours are consumed by their current responsibilities. They have bills to pay. People to take care of. They can't just quit to start something.

If that's you, this event was created for you. And that's why you owe it to yourself, to your family, and to everyone around you, to take this seriously.

So here's my challenge to you. Start your own side income online with AI, in the next five days. You've never been this early. And you owe it to yourself.

The Deal

I'll hand you my exact 3-step system. Two conditions.

One, come with an open mind and take imperfect action.
Some of this will sound too simple. Some of it'll sound too new. Judge it after you've seen the proof, not before. You won't feel ready. Do it anyway.

Two, show up live. Replays exist.
But it's the people in the room who actually change their lives.

Real Numbers, Not A Promise

This exact system has already put money in people's pockets.

James made $6,000 seven days after the event. Now over $173,000 on Whop.

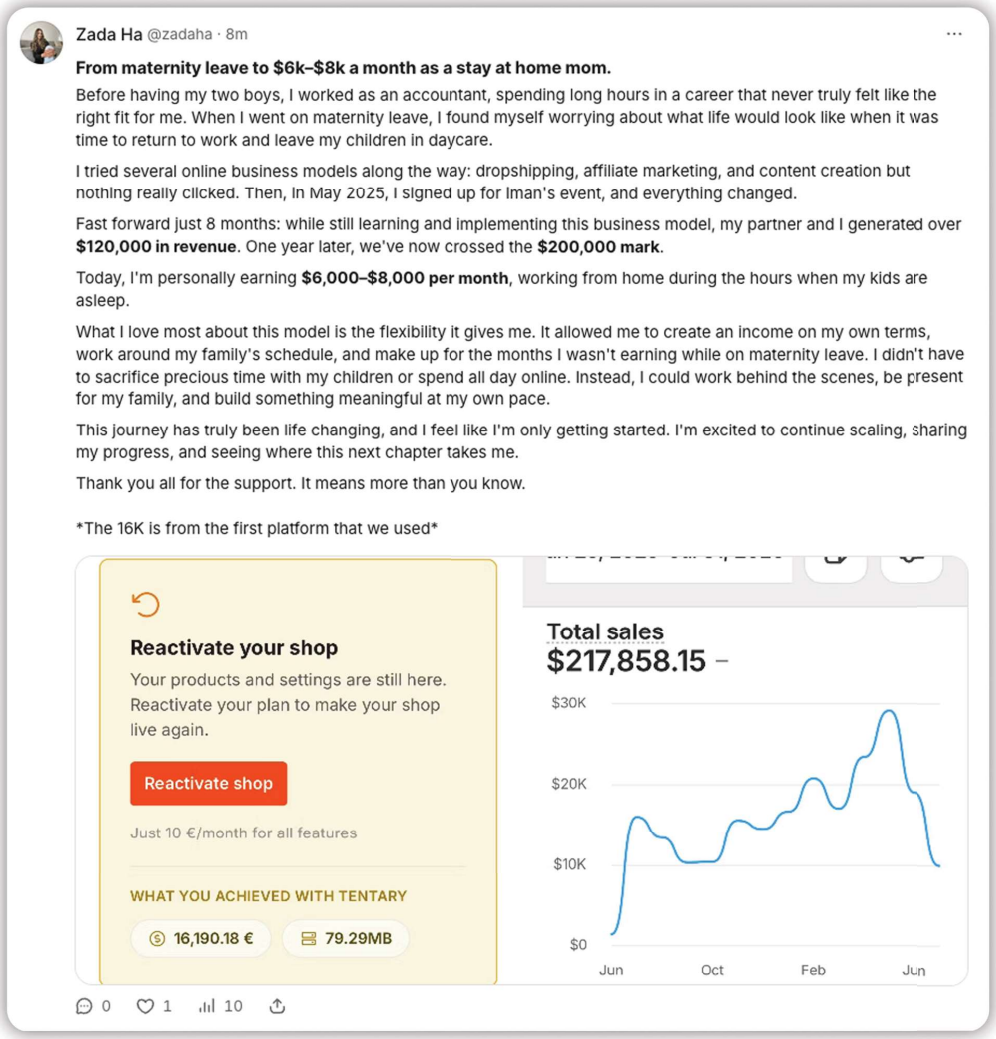

Gaël made $12,000 from his very first launch. Still finishing medical school in Mexico.

Heleno is from Cape Verde where Stripe and PayPal don't even work. Made over $10,000. A good salary where he lives is $2,000 a month.

Zada is a mum of two on maternity leave. Now earning $6,000 to $8,000 a month during her kids' sleep hours.

Armando was 19 and working construction. Made $111,000 in his first 45 days. Bought his dad a truck and retired both his parents.

This system has been tested multiple times, with people from different countries, different backgrounds, and completely different life situations. They made real money without showing their faces and without any previous experience in this industry.

James Hernandez @jamesmhernandezz · 2m

I went to Iman's free event in January. A week later I made $6,000. Now over $100K.

A few years ago I was selling car wash memberships in Nashville. Ten hour days, and every dollar I earned went straight back out the door.

I went to Iman's event in January. I went home and did exactly what he showed us.

Seven days later: $6,000.

I wasn't dead broke before that. I was doing ok, but I was also running the same repetitive tasks every day, in jobs I never felt anything for, and "ok" was starting to feel like all it was going.

Over $100k later: debts paid off. Money in savings for the first time in my life. Helping my family.

But the part I'd actually pay for is the boring stuff. I control my own schedule. I get real time with my wife. If I want to play padel at 2pm on a Wednesday, I play padel at 2pm on a Wednesday.

Glad to be here, and ready to help more people get out of the same spot I was in. I'm just a regular guy & if I can do it, so can you!

I make a full-time income online as a medical student.

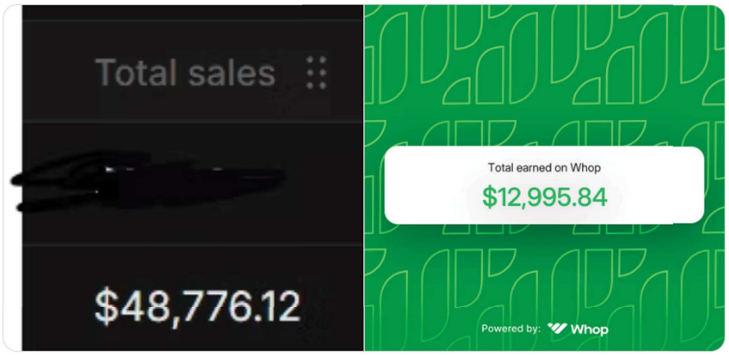

I picked medicine because it looked like the safe option. You know the deal: Listen in class, get good grades, get a stable job, make a lot of money. But as I went through university, I realised I didn't actually want that life.

Doctors here in Mexico are stressed all the time, working in two or three different hospitals just to have a decent lifestyle.

So I started looking for something I could do on my own. I tried selling cookies in university, e-commerce, faceless YouTube videos, and basketball content. Nothing really worked.

After Iman's event, I launched for the first time and generated over $48,000 in just 5 days! I personally made $12K+ from that one launch.

And I'm still finishing uni on the side! Just with a lot less stress about my future. Crazy how locking in for just 5 days at Iman's event has taken me this far...

Heleno Pires @growthagency · 16m

My country made it literally impossible to make money online. But Iman showed me a different way... (I just hit 10k in 2 months)

I'm Heleno, from Cape Verde! Before joining this, I tried dropshipping and running Instagram and Facebook ads. But I could never set up Stripe or PayPal here in my country.

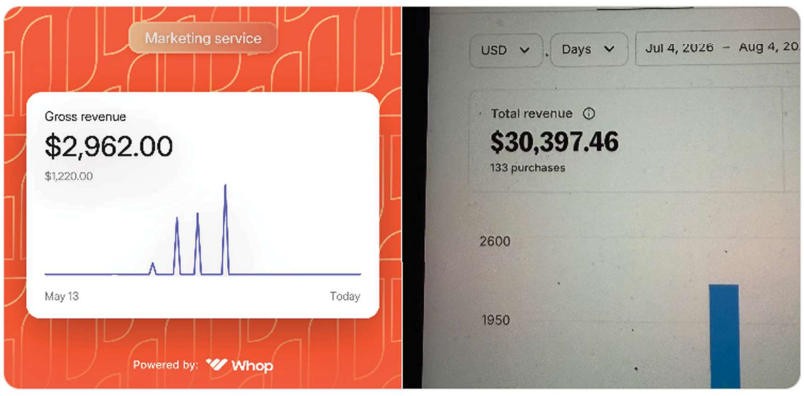

So even if I sold something, I couldn't actually receive the money. I remember thinking, "if I can't receive money, how am I going to make a business?"

Then I saw one of Iman's ads, and the thing that got me was that Whop actually sends money to Cape Verde. That really gave me more hope.

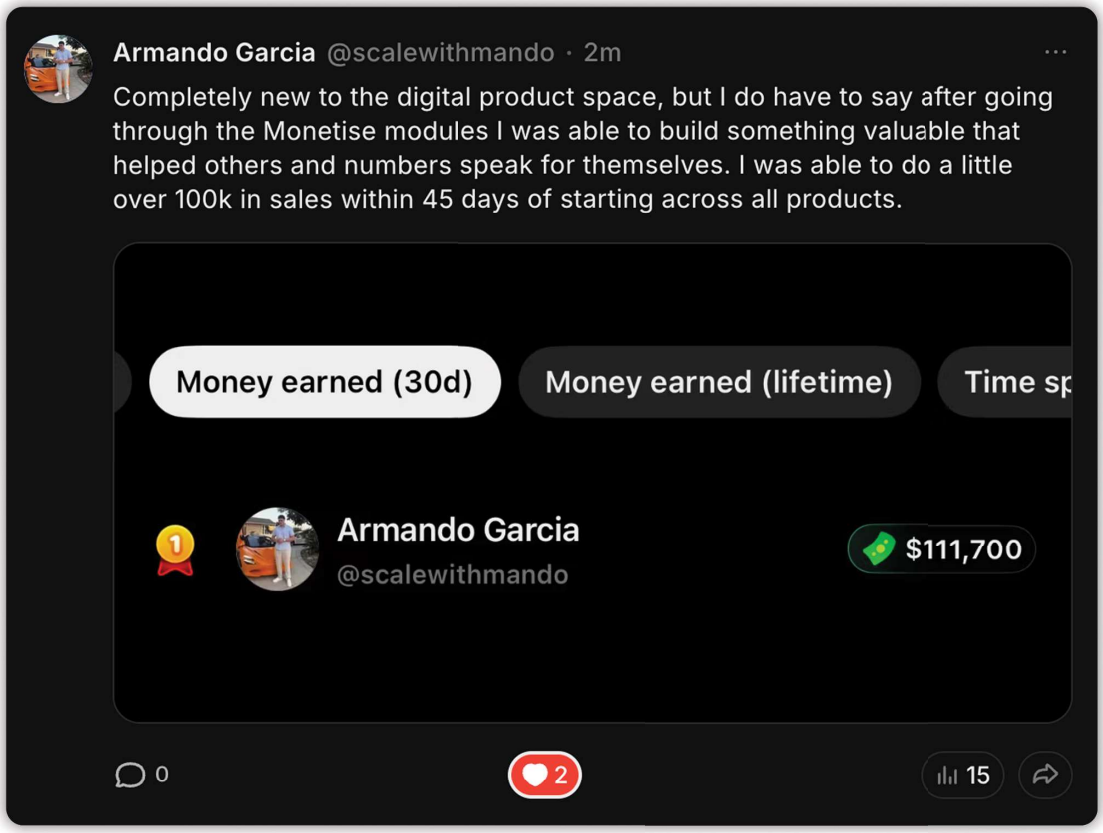

Since then, I've made over $10,000.

A good salary here is around $2,000 a month, so you can imagine what this is in my currency.

If you're somewhere where nothing seems to work, don't give up. There's always a way, you just have to find it.
Thanks to @Iman Gadzhi for showing me it's all possible!

SECTION 4: WHAT'S IN IT FOR ME

Why would I hand you all this for free, if it makes so much money?

Fair question. Here's the honest answer.

I make money through consulting. I literally acquired the company called Consulting.com. Under Consulting.com, there are four levels of consulting.

At the top is the Investment Portfolio, where I invest in companies and become an owner and advisor. That's how I became a co-owner of Whop, the fastest-growing digital payments platform in the world. Whop's users have earned over $5 billion online to date. It's already a tech unicorn, heading towards $100 billion. Whop makes money by taking a small cut of every transaction on the platform.

I also just invested in and became an advisor at Higgsfield, now the fastest-growing company ever, a generative AI company that's creating the tools setting the trends for this entire industry. Which means I don't just know what's working now. I see what's coming next.

So the more you earn, the more Whop earns. Which means I genuinely need you to succeed.

The Consulting Tiers

Here's something that answers a question you might be asking yourself: "Can you actually make a living with this?"

The next level is Enterprise Consulting - for individuals already doing anywhere from $1M to $50M a year. I just held an in-person event in Spain, where we booked out an entire estate for a 3-day full-immersion experience with 90 Enterprise clients. That starts at $25,000. A few of those clients also pay to spend a full day at the offices learning how the operation runs from the inside. That starts at $100,000 for a single day.

So when you ask whether you can make a real living with this, 90 of those clients are making, at the low end, a million dollars a year with this exact model.

Then there are the Consulting Platforms, the entry-level offers for people starting from zero who want access to help and software. Those range from $5,000 to $10,000. And those clients, most starting from absolute zero, have collectively made over $155 million in tracked, verifiable revenue on Whop through programmes like Monetise.

And then there's Free Consulting, which is exactly what's happening right now. Three to four times a year, events like this go out to everyone, for free.

The Track Record

Nobody can promise you'll make money. Nobody can promise that about anything.

But here's what's already happened. I have opened this exact opportunity four times before. Combined, attendees made $97 million in their first 90 days across those four events, tracked and verified in real time on a public leaderboard.

The first 888 people to join get access to an exclusive 4-Day Implementation Week to get your first AI Digital Product ready to launch.

Anyone on the Waitlist gets the link 15 minutes before it goes live to everyone else, giving you first access to those 888 Implementation Week spots before they're gone.

The Reason

How do I earn every time you do?

By becoming a co-owner of Whop

$155 million

The Spots

How many spots are available for the Implementation Week?

SECTION 5: THE FORK

The most important question to answer in this event is this: what is the right side hustle for you?

Most people who struggle here don't struggle from laziness. They put in real hours. They just never stopped to ask if those hours were going into the right thing.

Because the dirty, despicable, disgusting truth about success is: it's not about how hard you row. It's the boat you're in.

A lot of people row very, very hard their entire lives. But they're just rowing in the wrong boat. So they never get anywhere.

And if you've ever tried and failed with a side hustle before, it likely has nothing to do with you or your intelligence or skill level. Because virtually all the side hustles you see people talking about online are not what anyone should consider a real side hustle.

They're a second job wearing a costume.

Have you ever watched one of those videos: "7 profitable side hustles you can start today"? Uber. DoorDash. Dropshipping. Flipping stuff on eBay. Print on demand.

And somewhere in the middle of the list you notice you don't really feel like doing any of those. Every option on the menu feels off. And you couldn't really explain why.

Here's what your gut already knew. Every side hustle you've been offered is priced in the one currency you're already out of: hours. Every hour you put in buys you exactly one hour of money, while selling one hour of your freedom.

Wasn't that the exact opposite of why you wanted to start a side hustle in the first place? To buy your freedom?

You went in looking to buy your freedom and in the process ended up selling the rest of it you still had.

There is no amount of Uber that ends Uber.

The Test

So how do you tell a real side hustle apart from a second job in a costume? One question does it.

“If I stop, does the money stop?”

Freelancing: you stop, the money stops. Uber: you stop driving, the money stops. DoorDash: you stop delivering, the money stops.

If the money is renting your hours, it’s a second job. However it’s dressed.

You’ll never reach your Turning Point with anything that fails this test. Because the moment you stop, your bills don’t.

$5,000 a month that dies the second you stop is a trap with good lighting. $2,000 a month that shows up whether you show up or not is a completely different animal.

The Three Boats

For most of history, the right boat existed. You just couldn’t board it.

Think about the last three times regular people got a real shot at building wealth.

The internet. Late 90s. People building businesses from their bedrooms. But getting in meant learning to code, or paying someone thousands to do it for you. There was no Shopify, no drag-and-drop, nothing you could just pick up and use. Who got on that boat? The people who could code, or the people who could afford the people who could.

Real estate. After the 2008 crash, houses were going for half price. The people who bought then multiplied their money several times over. But that took tens of thousands in cash up front, a credit score the bank liked, a steady job, and access to the US market, which wasn’t the case for a lot of people watching. Who got on that boat? People who already had money.

Social media. YouTube. Instagram. TikTok. No code, no capital. But this boat had a different ticket: your face on camera, every day, for years, while nobody watched. YouTube didn’t pay you a cent until you had a thousand subscribers and four thousand hours of watch time. Who got on that boat? People comfortable on camera with the patience to post every day for years before it paid anything.

Code. Money. A face.

Three boats. Three tickets. And every single one was something you had to already have.

What AI Actually Replaces

While everyone's scared that AI is going to replace them, take a look at what it's actually replacing.

The code? AI already knows how to code. It does the part you'd have paid a developer for.

The skill? AI has more skill and experience than you'll build in a lifetime.

The startup capital? You can now start by yourself, with just your computer. No stock to buy. Nobody to hire. No products to ship.

The face? The following? You need neither. People buy the product, not you. And AI creates the product for you.

AI isn't replacing you. It's replacing the ticket. All of those tickets that kept you out before. No experience. No capital. No showing your face.

And while everyone's busy worrying about being replaced, you're one of the few people aware of what this actually means.

You've Never Been This Early

Each grey dot in the chart I showed represents 3 million people who've never used AI. Not once. That's 84% of the world.

If you've ever used AI in your life, you're already in the top 16%. If you have a paid subscription for ChatGPT or any other AI tool, you're in the top 0.3%. That's 7 dots in 2,500.

The people making money with it? One single dot. 0.04%.

Think about what that means. The internet is everywhere now. Do you pay for it? Of course you do. But back in 1995, less than 1% of the world had access to it at all.

That's what this looks like right now. Knowing about AI before 99% of the world has done anything with it. Knowing it's going to change everything. And being early enough to do something about it.

That's why the tagline for this event is: you've never been this early.

The Right Question

What is the most important question to answer in this event?

What is the right side hustle for me?

The Truth

Most side hustles handed to regular people are actually:

A second job

The Currency

Every typical side hustle is priced in the one thing you're already out of:

hours

The Stop Test

"If I stop, does the money stop?"

The Mantra

"It's not how much you make, it's how you make it."

The Three Tickets

What was the ticket to each of the three boats?

Internet: code

Real estate: capital

Social media: a face

What AI Replaces

AI isn't replacing you. It's replacing the ticket.

The Numbers

What percentage of the world has never used AI?

84%

What percentage of people are currently making money with AI?

0.04%

YOU JUST UNDERSTOOD THE DIFFERENCE. NOW HERE'S HOW TO ACT ON IT.

Throughout this week, I'll show you the step-by-step to build your first AI income. But if you want to move faster and work closely with me, during Episode 2 we're opening some spots for a done-for-you system that will make this process significantly easier and faster.

Only the first 888 people who join will get access to a special bonus A 4-Day Implementation Week to get your first AI Digital Product ready to launch.

I've created a Waitlist group to share more details about this offer. During Episode 2, I'll send the link to this group 15 minutes before anyone else, so you have a better chance of getting the special bonus.

JOIN WAITLIST GROUP

SECTION 6: THE UNLOCK - AI DIGITAL PRODUCTS

If you've read Rich Dad, Poor Dad, you'll know the rule. The only real way out of trading time for money is owning assets instead.

An asset, stripped right down, is something you own that keeps paying you without needing more of your hours.

Historically, there were only two ways in. Buy one, with capital. Build one, with a skill that took years to learn. If you had neither, the door was shut. That's exactly why every side hustle you've ever been handed was the hours-for-cash kind.

The Unlock

AI changed all of that. For the first time ever, there's an asset with no cost of entry.

Here's the part nobody thinks about. If AI can do enough of your job to get you laid off, doesn't that mean it can also do enough to make you money on your own?

It can. But AI by itself does nothing. Think of it like electricity. Useless on its own, world-changing once it's plugged into something. A factory. A machine.

Plug AI into digital products, and you've got the first free-entry asset in history.

A digital product, stripped down, is just downloadable content. A PDF, a guide, a template. The format's irrelevant. What matters is whether it solves someone's problem. The only rule: it has to be created and delivered entirely online.

Like a property built once and rented out forever, a digital product gets made once and sold an unlimited number of times. That's why we call them Digital Real Estate.

You only ever need one.

Your Background Doesn't Matter

Armando's story is worth a second look here, because it isn't just about the number.

He grew up without a lot of options, and had responsibility thrown at him early. A lot of you are in exactly that kind of situation right now. On your feet all day, working construction, working customer-facing jobs, or ten years into a career you've already built. When you're in that spot, it feels like there's no way out. No free hours, bills that don't wait.

That's the whole point of this model. You build it while keeping your job exactly as it is. Nothing about your life needs to change first.

The people making real money with this right now didn't blow up their lives to do it. They built their first product on evenings, weekends, lunch breaks, on top of everything else they were already doing.

You Don't Need To Show Your Face

Most people making real money from AI Digital Products stay completely anonymous. 95% of Monetise clients never show their face online. The value was never in who you are. It's in what the product delivers. Nobody cares who compiled a set of woodworking plans. They care whether the plans work.

Mishaal was 21 years old, born in India and living in Qatar, earning $400 a month when his dad lost his job and his family was struggling. Nobody around him knew he was building something on the side. He made his first $1,000 in under 27 days. He's now approaching $50,000 total, with no face reveal.

Mishaal | Mishift @mishaal10 · 1d

$10K away from hitting $50K as a 21 years old university student.

I still can't believe how much my life changed after deciding to be part of the Make Money Online event. I was working a sales job making $400 a month, my dad had just lost his job, and we were genuinely struggling. Nobody around me knew I was building something on the side - not my family, not my friends. Just me, a laptop, and a decision.

Right after the event I used Synthesise AI to launch my first digital product and made $1,000 in less than 27 days. $2,000 in the first 2 months. And it just kept stacking - now I'm almost at the $50,000 mark, with 5,000 followers and no face reveal yet.

I was born in India, live in Qatar, and this kind of money changes everything in my world. I've been able to support my family, travel, and Im about to buy the dream car I had on my phone wallpaper for years which will be revealed soon.

If you're willing to put in the work - everything is possible 🖤

Paid for a new house for my family thanks to Monetise!

When I was 15, my father left the house; my mom had no job and three kids to raise alone.

We couldn't pay the bills, we couldn't pay for school, and many times my mom had to borrow money so we could eat...

2 months ago, we just moved into our new house, that I paid for in cash.

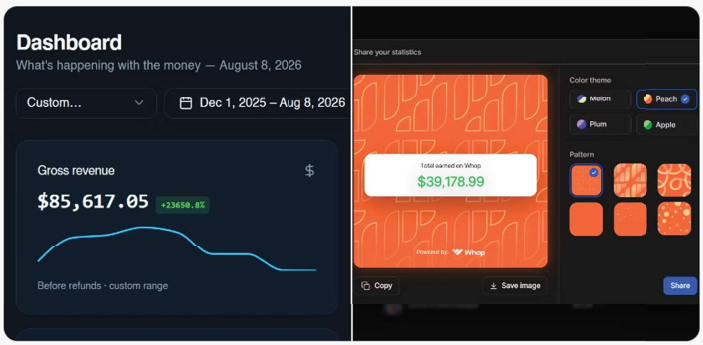

My name is Angelo, I'm 26, and I'm from Haiti,

I'm almost crossing $100k since I joined during the event, and it feels amazing to be able to provide for my family and pay for my brother's education.

I tried Dropshipping, Crypto, Print-on-Demand, and NFTs. But failed in all of them. After trying everything online since 2019, almost 6 years later, I finally found a system that was made for me thanks to Monetise

When you believe in something, you find a way, and anything can happen!

PS: The first screenshot is from my own finance software I created to track all my revenues and expenses from different platforms. I made almost $40k on Whop only

Tashreeq Faker @tashreeqfaker · 58s

Just within the past four days we generated just over $6,000 for my creator on his very first digital product launch.

This was cohort one. We are already planning cohort two this week.

And just to put this into perspective, when my creator and I first jumped on a call together he was sitting at 17K followers. He is now at 30K. As he keeps creating content and growing his audience, every future launch is only going to hit harder.

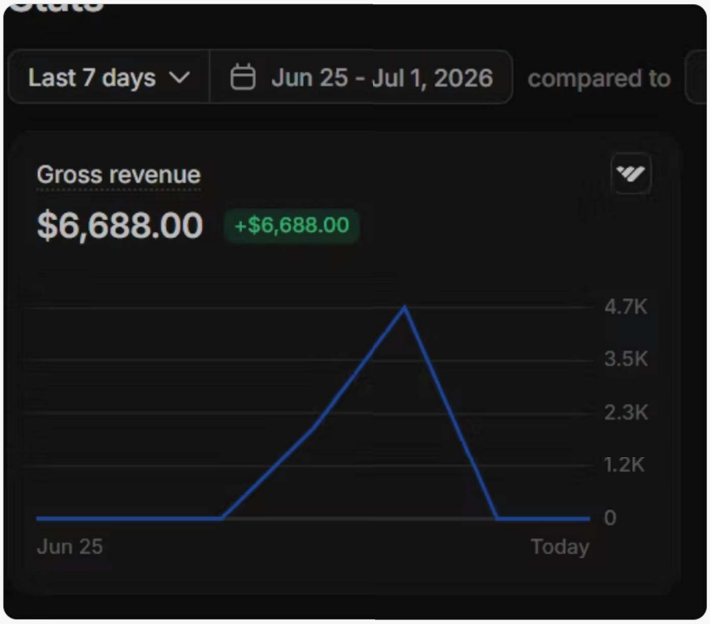

I want to be real with you all for a second though. I joined this community in January. For months I had zero creators . I tried everything, failed, tried again, failed again, almost walked away completely. Then I locked in my first creator. Then I built this launch from scratch. Then the sales came in.

The system works. The method works. But it only works if you refuse to stop.

A winner is just a loser who tried one more time.

For anyone sitting in that place right now where nothing is working and you are thinking about walking away, I am telling you from personal experience, do not. Your breakthrough is closer than you think. Keep going.

To everyone in this community still building, I see you and I am rooting for every single one of you. Let us get it. 🔥

Closing June with about $2,5k on Whop.

I Joined Monetise in early May. I dedicated all my focus and energy to the training materials and live calls hosted by the Monetise team — and now, not even two months later, I can confidently say: this works. 100% worth it.

I launched my offer on June 4th, and in just 20 days, I've made $2.5k in sales. Kinda scary (in a good way) to think what the numbers might look like by the end of July 😅

Time to push reach, scale up, and hit the next milestone: $10k!

P.S. I'm selling in Poland thats why currency is in PLN.

The Two Historical Doors

To be plugged into digital products

For a product to be a Digital Product, it must be created and delivered completely online.

AI Digital Products are like “Digital Real Estate.”

Armando’s Lesson

What does Armando’s story prove about starting points?

Your background doesn’t decide your outcome

The Anonymity Stat

What percentage of Monetise clients never show their face online?

95%

SECTION 7: THE 3-STEP SYSTEM

Before handing you the system, here's a truth most people don't want to sit with.

The riskiest thing you own right now is your job. One income stream, controlled entirely by someone else, that can vanish in a meeting you're not even invited to.

But here's the part people miss. Quitting that job is even riskier. Walking away from your only income, with bills due and people counting on you, isn't brave. It's a gamble, and a bad one.

So a side hustle is the only move on the board that adds income without adding risk. It has to cost nothing to start. Demand no rare skill. Not eat your hours forever. And once it's built, it pays you whether you show up or not.

AI Digital Products are the strongest AI income you can build.

How Do You Sell Them?

Forget the word "selling" for a second. What you actually need is distribution, putting your product in front of people who are already gathered and already inclined to buy.

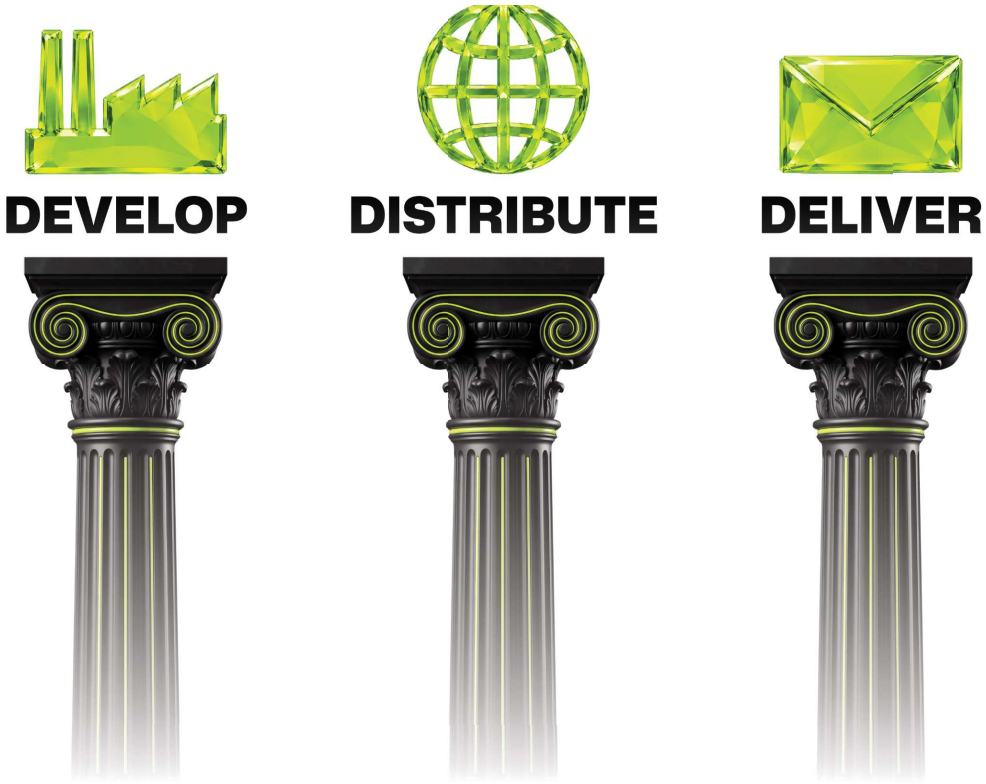

As co-owner of Whop, I went through every digital product on the platform that had crossed $100,000 in sales, and found every single one had three things in common.

Develop. Distribute. Deliver.

Develop used to be the hardest part of this whole industry. AI has torn that barrier down. You can build a digital product from a standing start, with no background in the topic required.

Distribute means putting your product where the right buyers already are, groups of ten thousand to a hundred thousand people, already leaning towards buying.

Deliver means the product hands itself over automatically, so ten sales cost you the same effort as ten thousand.

The Riskiest Thing

What is the riskiest thing you currently own?

Your job

The Deeper Risk

What's actually riskier than keeping your job?

Quitting it

The Real Skill

What do you need instead of selling?

Distribution

The Three steps of the system: Develop, Distribute and Deliver.

SECTION 8: THE WHY

If you're feeling a little overwhelmed right now, that's completely normal. It means you're actually taking something in.

The people who don't make it through events like this one quit right around this exact feeling. The ones who succeed rewatch whatever confused them, as many times as it takes, until it clicks.

Whenever you feel like quitting or leaving it for later, ask yourself: "Is this me giving in to my irrational urges that just want to keep me stuck?"

And once you ask yourself that question, trust yourself to make the decision that's right. Not the decision that's easy. The one that's right for your future. Right for your family. Right for the Why behind what you're doing here.

The Question That Matters Most

Be honest with yourself for a second. Do you believe right now that you're capable of building a side hustle earning $10,000 in the next 30 days?

Now picture something else. Your mother has just been diagnosed with a serious illness and needs an emergency operation this month. It costs $10,000 you don't have. Would you find it? In 30 days? In 7?

The gap between those two answers is the Why.

After helping more than 10,000 individuals start a side hustle online, one thing became obvious. Every person who made it had a Why that wasn't really about themselves. It was for their mum, their family, their partner, their kids.

You will face setbacks in this journey. It doesn't matter what side hustle you choose, how much information you have, or how good the system is. You will face moments where it feels easier to stop.

The only thing that carries you through those moments is a reason strong enough to keep going.

Write yours down below. It matters as much as anything else covered in Episode 1.

A stable income that doesn't depend on my hours, so I can work less and have more time for friends, family and travel.

The Overwhelm

What should you do when you feel like quitting or don't understand something?

Rewatch it again until it clicks

The Gap

What is the difference between the two scenarios?

The Why

The Pattern

What did every person who made it have in common?

A powerful Why

The Homework

What is the one piece of homework from Episode 1?

Write down your Why

YOU JUST WROTE DOWN YOUR WHY. NOW ACT ON IT.

You've gone through the proof. You understand the opportunity. You know what separates those who succeed from those who don't.

And you just wrote down who you're doing this for.

Throughout this week, I'll show you the step-by-step system to build your first AI income. But if you're serious about turning that Why into action, during Episode 2 we're opening a done-for-you system that gives you everything you need to build and launch your first AI Digital Product in weeks, not months.

There's a spot being saved for YOU.

The first 888 people to join get access to an exclusive 4-Day Implementation Week to turn your first AI Digital Product from idea to launch.

A Waitlist group has been created where full details will be shared. When Episode 2 goes live, everyone on the Waitlist gets the link 15 minutes early, giving you first access to the 888 implementation week spots before they're gone.

SECTION 9: LIGHT BULB MOMENTS

Use this space to capture the insights that hit you during Episode 1.

1. Run one of your past side hustle attempts through the stop test: if you'd stopped, would the money have stopped? What does that tell you about what you were actually building?

I work as a sound engineer, Java developer and NetSuite consultant. If I stopped working, the money would stop - every one of these is my hours sold for money, so it's a second job, not an asset. What I was really building was skills and experience, not something I own that pays me without me.

2. When you picture your own Turning Point, the day your side income overtakes your main one, what does that actually look like for you? Not the number. The moment itself.

More time for friends and family, and more travelling. Work becomes a choice - I take the projects I want, not the ones I need to pay the bills.

3. Which of the three boats left without you: the internet, real estate, or social media? What was the ticket that kept you out? And what does it mean that AI has now replaced that ticket?

Real estate - the ticket that kept me out was capital. AI has replaced that ticket: now I can build an asset with just my computer and my skills, with no upfront money.

4. What's your why? Not the version you'd say out loud to a stranger. The real one.

I'm doing it for myself: a stable income that doesn't depend on my hours, so I can work less in the future and live on my own terms.
